Why

You have made good progress on your project but something is stopping or slowing you down. This NanoHack will help you get around this issue by finding new solutions that you might have missed before.

Focus on your project and imagine unlimited resources and solutions that you will readapt to meet the reality of the situation.

What you will do

- Identify what stops you and break through these barriers.
- Use unlimited thinking and creativity to make new connections.
- Transform new ideas into action.

How you will do it

Step 1
Describe the thing that is stopping you.
Write down the situation or any other factor that is slowing you down. Ask yourself: 'What is this thing and why is it stopping me?' Whatever the answer, ask: 'Why' again. Repeat this questioning to find root causes.

Step 2
Imagine you have 3 magic wishes.
Describe these wishes and how they would help you. Dream without limits. You have superpowers! Say these wishes out loud and then write them down.

Step 3
Think about a successful future.
Your project is on the first page of the famous newspaper The Times of Innovation and is making news all over the Internet! You are a successful innovation hero! What is the news? What is the headline? Write it down.

Step 4
Bring it back to reality now.
Connect your 3 wishes back to reality. Slow down and think about your next steps from here. What real actions can you take and what efforts can be dropped?
